ONE COP ADMITS PETZOLD CHARGE

While three police officers waiting today to testify before the Suffolk County grand jury in the Paul A. Petzold case have denied charges made by the former patrolman, a fourth officer had admitted discussing a projected crime with Petzold without arresting him, the Boston Evening American learned. Hard-boiled police officers and weeping women shared the spotlight in the the anteroom of the grand jury as the probe of the Petzold case opened.

Sobbing, as they sat side by side on one of the anteroom benches, were the wife and the sister of the former patrolman, who is both accused and accuser in the unique proceedings which may result in the indictment of at least one police officer, and perhaps others, as well as of Petzold himself.

The three other officers have denied Petzold's accusations. The officer who confessed, it was learned, is still on duty and has not been notified to hold himself in readiness to testify. The grand jury, however, will make his case one of the keystones of the probe, it was learned on high authority, although it will first turn its attention to the S. S. Pierce robbery of 1938.

Petzold, who had resigned from the police department while morals charges were pending against him, was employed as night watchman in the store at the time. He was found bound and gagged, but has since admitted, according to police, that he allowed himself to be tied up by confederates who engineered the robbery.

First witness to be called before the grand jury was Police Lieut. Joseph V. Crowley, who directed the first investigation of the Petzold charges, then turned the probe over to a special investigating board of three deputy superintendents appointed by Commr. Joseph F. Timilty.

PAUL PETZOLD ATTY. H. CUTTER

Meanwhile while on a bench outside the door to the grand jury room sat Petzold's wife and sister-in-law, Mrs. Louise Munroe, both in tears as they waited the summons to testify.

They are scheduled to be called during the day by District Attorney William J. Foley, who with two assistants, is personally directing the proceedings.

Obviously upset, they wept intermittently, and for a time barricaded themselves in a wash room to

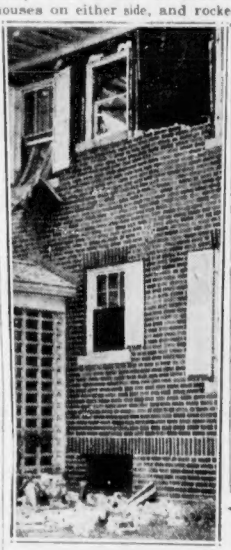
Blast Perils Doctor And Wrecks Home

Dr. Otto C. Yens, staff member at Cambridge Hospital and authority on children's diseases, had a close escape from death today when a blast wrecked his home, shattered windows in houses on either side, and rocked the exclusive Longfellow road section of Cambridge.



Asleep when the explosion occurred, Dr. Yens was nearly buried under plaster, splintered wood and brick.

Digging himself out, he called the fire department, and was assisted across the street to his own hospital by firemen.

Except for minor abrasions, his only injury was a cut on the left foot.

Fire Chief Herman E. Gutheim said the explosion was in the water heating system, probably caused by a defective safety valve.

Dr. Yens, who is 38, was alone in the house, his wife and two children being on vacation on the Cape.

He was about to start for the National Guard camp at Plattsburg, N. Y. He is a first lieutenant.

The doctor told firemen that when he woke he was smothering under a mass of plaster and other debris and smarting from unimportant but painful injuries.

The explosion hurled a refrigerator through a wall and 25 feet across the lawn.

The back of the Yens house was blown away and an expansion tank was catapulted through the roof.

All the windows in the physician's home were shattered, as were most of the windows in a two-family house occupied by James Robbins and F. B. Shaw, and the house of Alfred C. Hawkins.

Saltonstall Defends Labor Record

After an unprecedented warning, in which delegates were put on their honor not to embarass him, Governor Saltonstall appeared before the 54th annual convention of the State A. F. of L. today to defend his labor policies.

He was applauded when he arrived. He was applauded when he left. And, if he had failed to win support, he had won respect.

The warning came from President Nicholas P. Morrissey, of the federation.

Delegates were forbidden to express audible disapproval of the government, his policies, or his administration. They were forbidden to heckle him from the floor, and a vote, either for or against him, was banned.

PRAISES FEDERATION

The atmosphere, under such interdictions, might have been strained. It was not, and the applause accorded the chief executive was, apparently, wholly sincere.

The governor expressed pleasure at being invited to speak, adding that he believes the State Federation "is the most powerful of all civic groups—and that is because it has the welfare of the State at heart."

All labor matters brought before him, he said, have been considered with the counsel and advice of James P. Moriarity, head of the State Department of Labor and Industries.

"It is imperative," said the Governor, "that we find jobs. And that is what I have been trying to do—find jobs and bring industries to the Commonwealth. "It is particularly important

DELLA CARROLL, BLONDE DANCER

Quits N. Y. Fair Over Clothes—Too Many

DANCER QUITS JOB OVER NUDITY BAN

NEW YORK, Aug. 8 (AP)—Peek-a-boo brassieres and a scarcity of nudity drove Della Carroll, blonde dancer, to quit her job at the New York World's Fair.

Della, who walked out of a Vienna night club last May when ordered to wear a little something while doing her rose dance, explained the distressing aspects of dressing today, as follows:

"It was ridiculous for me to dance in a costume that was just short of old-fashioned red woolen underwear.

"I simply couldn't perform a highly esthetic dance under such conditions. Dance portrayals such as mine call for artistic, decent revelation of the body.

"And when they put transparent brassiers on me, it only makes the dance vulgar."

Della, who danced at a concession in the amusement area, is the second clothes-shying performer to quit. Rosita Royce, the dove dancer, walked out last week complaining of too much work.

Pastor's Daughter Slain in Love Lane

CAMDEN, N. J., Aug. 8 (AP)—Wearing a corsage of red and white roses, a 17-year-old minister's daughter was found mysteriously slain today beside a muddy lover's lane, eight blocks from her home.

The Rev. Walter Dworecki of a Camden Polish Baptist church identified the bruised, rain-soaked body as that of his auburn-haired daughter, Wanda, who left home last night "to buy a pair of stockings."

Coroner Franklin Johnson said the cause of death was not immediately determined. Her throat was bruised as though she had been choked.

Her face was discolored as if from a blow. There was a wound in her temple which might have been made by a bullet or knife.

She had been released from a hospital only recently after weeks of treatment for injuries received April 3 when she was abducted, beaten and tossed unconscious from an automobile in Auburn, N. J.

Beside her body, along a narrow lane opposite the Camden High School athletic field, were fresh automobile tracks.

A diamond ring remained on her finger, indicating robbery had not been a motive.

The Rev. Dworecki seemed on the verge of collapse as officers sought to learn weather his daughter ever was able to give any information to identify men who abducted her in April.

SEIZED BY AUTOISTS

At that time she related:

"I was on my way to the drug store. Someone called my name. I saw two men in an automobile. I walked over to see who they were and what they wanted.

"The man sitting nearest dragged me into the car. That's all I can remember until I was pushed from the car."

Nurse Painted, Feathered Self

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., Aug. 8 (AP)—Mrs. Charlotte Cain, 34-year-old Wichita Falls woman found virtually stripped of her clothing and covered with red paint and feathers, told Detective Chief L. E. Hanaway today "I did it myself."

The former nurse previously had told police three women pulled her into an automobile last night and kicked and beat her into unconsciousness.

MARY KIRK BROWN

Slashes Wrists, Police Report

MARY KIRK BROWN FAILS AT SUICIDE

NEW YORK, Aug. 8—All New York's gay, careless, charming ladies who night after interminable night frequent the Stork Club, El Morocco, Tommy Lyman's and other select, hard-to-get-into East Side bistros, and their carefree, bibulous young top-hatted escorts had cause to pause today . . .

And pause they did for Mary Kirk Brown—she who was the most careless, the gayest, the most care-free of all—was in a hospital room battling death she had sought herself by way of a keen, bright razor blade.

Mary Brown, four times married, is now 24.

Time was—was it last season, or the one before when Mary Brown's was the snappiest chamber in town. Who remembers the night at El Morocco when she took the prize? And when La Conga came, she was beat at that, too.

CAME MANY BRIDALS

Nowhere—no, in the discreetly lighted sector of Cafe Society's rendezvous was there a smile as bright as that which lighted her features. There wasn't a prettier figure, or one better dressed. Her laugh was as bright as bubbling champagne.

She was neither rich nor poor. Her mother, Mrs. Gloria Perry, had a Park ave. apartment, and an income.

Then came the marriages. There was Arthur Brown, a nightclub entertainer. It was annulled. There was Robert Alexander Martyn, scion of a Cuban beauty and an Irish aristocrat, once a landed proprietor in the West of Ireland, of late a restaurant entrepreneur in New York, one of the owners of La Conga.

Then, after the Martyn divorce in Miami in 1936, they had lived together just 15 days—came a brief interlude with Max Baer. One minute they were engaged. The next they were not . . . It was little bewildering to Baer, a country boy prize-fighter at heart, despite his pretensions to Park ave. sophistication. At that, he might have mar-

Father of Little Girl Killed By Car Faces Two Sad Tasks

Called home from vacation by tragic news of his five-year-old daughter's death under the wheels of a trolley car, Patrolman George Brassil of the Dudley st. police station was faced today with two harrowing tasks.

First he had to make arrangements for the funeral of his little Claire, whom he last saw alive and happy and laughing.

Then he had to break sad tidings of the accident's fatal outcome to his wife, Mrs. Mary Brassil, who was herself critically injured trying to save her daughter.

FEARED TO TELL HER

At St. Elizabeth's Hospital, doctors said they had been obliged to keep the mother under opiates and had judged it best not to tell her that the 5-year-old Claire was dead.

Mrs. Brassil kept moaning constant pleas for word of Claire's condition, however, and the ordeal of letting her know the truth was delegated to the heartbroken husband.

He was awaiting word from the doctors that Mrs. Brassil was strong enough to stand the shock.

CLAIRE BRASSIL

The Brassil home in Islington ter., Allston, was closed and shuttered today.

OTHER CHILDREN AWAY

Jean, 13, and Charles, 14, sister and brother of the child who lost her life, were with the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brown of Saunders street, Brighton.

A third child, Robert, 15, was at a boys' camp in Sharon.

Patrolman Brassil said little Claire's funeral would be from the Brown home tomorrow afternoon.

Burial will be in St. Benedict Cemetery, West Roxbury.

Although still suffering from shock and severe cuts and bruises, Mrs. Brassil was believed to be out of danger today, but doctors were not yet certain she escaped injury to her spine.

EX-WIFE KIDNAP CHARGE DROPPED

NORTHAMPTON, Aug. 8 (AP)—James J. Kehoe, 25-year-old former convict, originally charged with kidnaping his divorced wife last month, was held in $10,200 for the grand jury today on charges of armed robbery, larceny and carrying a revolver without a permit.

Judge John W. Mason found no probable cause on the kidnaping charge after Dist. Atty. John W. Hazelton said he would present no kidnaping evidence in compliance with a request from Mrs. Bernice Beckwith, 26, Kehoe's former wife.

At the time of his arrest, the former convict was accused of holding up Mrs. Beckwith, her husband and Leroy Langdon and robbing Langdon of $9. He then allegedly drove off with Mrs. Beckwith. She was found 24 hours later, unharmed.

Falling Rock Kills Mountain Climber

ESTES PARK, Col., Aug. 8 (AP)—A Denver commercial photographer gashed on the head by a falling rock after spending 20 hours on a ledge in lashing rain and snow, is the latest victim of a Long's Peak climbing tragedy.

The victim, Gerald Clark, 30, died while being lowered down the face of the 14,255-foot peak.

NEW BEDFORD, Aug. 8—Eighty-three years old and probably the oldest Catholic clergyman in Bristol County, the Rt. Rev. Louis A. Marchant has resigned as pastor of St. Anthony's Church.

GOVERNOR URGES NEW TAX PLANS

With his cherished "pay as you go" policy at stake and his administration's whole tax program threatened with defeat, Governor Saltonstall made a double effort today to rally Republican party stalwarts and bring warring legislative factions into line.

His first plea for his revenue-raising plans was made at the Parker House before a caucus of Republican members of the state Senate and House.

The governor faced the necessity of "reselling" the administration's tax program to G.O.P. legislators, many of whom were none too loyal in recent bitter skirmishing on the Hill.

DUE TO CRACK WHIP

It was anticipated that the beleaguered Chief Executive would crack the whip in unhesitating fashion, particularly on such touchy issues as the proposed dog track tax increase, recently scrapped in the Senate.

Another moot measure due for sharp comment by the Governor was that of a self-voted pay boost for members of the Legislature. He was expected to announce today that he would veto any paygrab in excess of $2000.

No. 2 task on the Governor's list today was a personal appearance before a special joint session of both houses of the Legislature.

PLANS NEW PROPOSALS

This session was set for 3 p. m. by an order voted by the Senate on motion of Senator Angier L. Goodwin of Melrose, the House later concurring.

Having swung his own party's leaders into line, if possible, the Governor was expected to read to the Legislature a new and revised version of his tax proposals.

Those closest to the inner group of Saltonstall advisers were firm in the belief the governor would embody in his legislative plea the greater part of his original program, once defeated.

This program includes lowered income tax exemptions, higher income tax percentages, an increased levy on the dog tracks, a gasoline tax boost and a tax on cigarettes.

'Real Vacation' For Joe Martin

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (AP)—A "real vacation" is something several New England members of Congress seldom have.

For instance, Representative Martin (R.) of Massachusetts, Republican leader of the House, has not had one for five years, but he hopes to get a few days of rest between now and the time he leaves for the West Coast, late this month.

Martin will return to his North Attleboro, Mass., home Wednesday or Thursday and speak at Bryant College in Providence Aug. 11 where he will receive a degree.

Women Block Dusty Road to Save Wash

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 8 (AP)—A dusty road wrecked havoc with washlines in nearby Baldwin, so doughty housewives barricaded the thoroughfare until officials did something.

Victory for the weary women who turned back traffic all yesterday came in an order reopening another road. The women, some carrying babies, time and again watched police tear down makeshift barriers of bed springs, old lumber and barrels, then trooped back to erect them again when the officers left.

Tropical Storm Forming, U. S. Warns

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 8 (AP)—The weather bureau reported today indications that a tropical storm was forming in the Atlantic ocean about 175 miles northeast of San Juan, Puerto Rico.

The warning said the storm, if it developed, probably would move west-northwest. Its present position is about 1200 miles southeast of Miami.

U. S. Abandons Plan To Deport I.R.A. Head

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (INS)—Immigration authorities announced today that Sean Russell, reported head of the outlawed Irish Republican Army, would be allowed to leave the United States voluntarily.

Deportation proceedings against Russell now under way at Detroit, will be dropped, it was learned.

Still Seeking Home

Paul Whitman of Somerville ruefully admitted today that he has been unable to find a roof to shelter his wife and 11 children, ranging from three years to 19.

The Whitmans were evicted from their home in Vinal ave., Somerville, last Friday. Since then the wife and children have been sleeping in the homes of neighbors, the husband and father has lived mostly in a battered automobile.

'RED' ISSUE CURBED IN BRIDGES HEARING

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8 (AP)—Harry Bridges' defense attorneys had clear-cut rulings today from Presiding Examiner James M. Landis on issues to be considered in the West Coast labor leader's deportation hearing.

The defense received directions from Landis that it could not go extensively into ramifications of organizations or interests hunting out subversive activities unless it could show a direct connection between improper inducements allegedly offered government witnesses to appear against Bridges, and government officials.

The Harvard Law School dean asked Knowles when he took over the questioning briefly:

"Did you think that aliens were deportable on the ground that they were undesirables?"

"Yes," replied Knowles.

"Have you read the laws on this point?"

"Yes."

"I have them here, Mr. Knowles, and I cannot find anything in the statutes of the United States which says that an alien is deportable on the ground that he is merely an undesirable."

"An alien which would advocate the overthrow of the government would be an undesirable alien," argued the witness.

Bet 'Breakage' Bill Faces Bitter Battle

With the blessing of the State Racing Commission, a bill, which would take $400,000 in "breakage" from race track bettors in Massachusetts annually, was before the legislature today, with battle lines forming rapidly for the test vote.

And while the bill defining breakage was pending, the Legislature faced a fight on another "breakage" bill, one that would return to the State $1,000,000 of "breakage" collected before the Supreme Court decision forbidding the tracks to break to the dollar.

FEENEY MAKES APPEAL

An appeal to the racing commission to get behind this bill was issued by John L. Feeney, the Cambridge man whose quarrel with Suffolk Downs over a 12-cent "break" brought about the Supreme Court decision in his favor and against the tracks.

"If the state racing commissioners are sincere about revenue, let them get behind the bill which will force the race track operators to give back the $1,000,000 they still have out of the $2,000,000 they have taken illegally from the bettors in the past five years," declared Feeney.

He pointed out that since the Supreme Court decision in his favor, the average "handle" of the Revere dog track has dropped from approximately $180,000 to $160,000 a night.

"This drop shows the resentment of the fans over the 'breakage' situation," Feeney said.

Both bills are still in committee, with the Legislature not apparently anxious to have them brought to the floor.

Except for taxes, the most hard-fought legislative struggle of the term is expected.

Many legislators have stated publicly that the breakage rule as it stands discriminates against the horse player.

The bill proposed is much more drastic, and was introduced in face of a Supreme Court ruling which would have returned that $400,000 to bettors.

Rep. Sirois of Lawrence, a Republican, introduced the measure, and asked that it be dealt with as an emergency bill.

He said deferment of action

$25,000— PRICE PUT ON LOVE

International News Photograph Service

MRS. LORETTA McLAIN OF REVERE
Values Hubby's Love at $25,000

A Revere beauty shop operator prepared today to defend herself against a $25,000 suit charging her with stealing another woman's husband.

In her alienation of affections suit, Mrs. McLain declared Mrs. Holt was also known as Gertrude M. Best. Her maiden name, the suit said, was McIntosh.

She is Mrs. Gertrude Holt, 42, of Pleasant street, Revere. The suit was filed in Suffolk superior court by Attorney Samuel L. Elkins on behalf of Mrs. Loretta McLain, of Garfield ave., Revere.

Mrs. McLain charged her husband left her "at the solicitation" of the beauty shop operator.

Last year she won a separation suit in Suffolk probate court, and was awarded $150 a month and custody of the two McLain children, Elizabeth, 11, and Charles, 8.

FALL KILLED FILM AIDE

5 Overcome Fighting Blaze in Cambridge

Five firemen were felled today while battling a stubborn blaze in the offices of the Cambridge election commission in the Municipal Building in Central sq.

All were overcome by dense smoke that poured from a closet holding books and papers.

The men, who were revived in the street by use of inhalators, are Capt. Edward Burke, 45, of Ladder 3; John Donahue, 39, of Engine 6; Earnest Varney, 45, of Ladder 1; Bert Shea of the Rescue Co. and Michael Maloney, 46, of Ladder 3.

Offices of the commission are on the third floor of the building that houses police headquarters.

The blaze, which started in a pile of election blanks, finally broke out after smoldering through the night, fire officials said as they investigated.

Damage was confined to tally sheets and ballot boxes, according to election commissioners.

E. Weymouth School Damaged by Blaze

A two-alarm fire which started between partitions did $1,000 damage today to the Jefferson grammar school in Middle street, East Weymouth. Cause of the fire remains undetermined.

The blaze was discovered by a baker, who sent in the alarm. Most of the damage was to the first floor. The building is a two and one-half story frame structure, one of two wooden schoolhouses remaining in the Weymouths.

Deb Steals Elaine Barrie's Show

GLOUCESTER, Aug. 8—Maybe it's just as well that the spectacular Elaine Barrie Barrymore had to testify in a separation suit in New York Supreme Court and was unable to appear at the opening performance of "What a Life" at the Bass Rocks Theater.

She would have found herself playing second fiddle to a talented Boston debutante of no stage experience, who was cast in the leading feminine role.

And she wouldn't have liked that. Miss Barrie was unwillingly absent to defend herself in the separation action brought by John Barrymore, her famous husband.

Leila Ernst, blond and beautiful, who has been solemnly voted society's No. 1 Glamor Girl hereabouts, played the lead last night and was applauded.

It is Leila who is the "love interest" in the play, the girl who, as Barbara Pierson, wins the heart of the adolescent high school playboy, Henry Aldrich, played by Eddie Bracken, one of the Orsen Welles Mercury Theater players from New York.

To Elaine would have fallen the role of a mature secretary to the school principal, a woman of the world well versed in affairs of the heart, whose experiences in love help to guide the young pupil in his own thorny romance, and who teaches the other girl how to land her man. The part is now being played by Rosemary Carver, one of the Mercury players.

The role was deemed significantly suitable to Elaine, who landed her own man after a hectic cross-country romance.

It is because of Elaine's engagement in Supreme Court in New York, where she must face Barrymore's separation suit and account for $300,000 he claims she and her mother acquired and are holding, that she was obliged to forego her great opportunity. Elaine herself has twice sued Barrymore for divorce, withdrawing one suit after a touching reconciliation.

LEILA A SUCCESS—Not only did Leila Ernst, debutante glamour girl, capture the heart of the hero in "What a Life," Bass Rocks production, but also that of the audience who gathered to see the girl who supplanted Elaine Barrie Barrymore in the play. Here, Leila goes over script with Rosemary Carver, who also appears in the play.

STARTING WEDNESDAY

Contest Seen for 3 Police Captaincies

Competition among police lieutenants for captaincies was seen today as the objective of Commissioner Timilty's ordering three captains to retire on pensions.

Because the three captains remained on the active list after Mayor Tobin sailed for Ireland without signing their retirement papers, thus leaving no "goal" for which lieutenants could aspire, the commissioner revived the use of the law whereby vacancies can be created by captains applying for their pensions.

Commissioner Timilty's action in the cases of the trio, Capt. James Egan of the detective bureau, John J. McGrath of Brighton and John Fitzpatrick of the bureau of operations came on the heels of Mayor Tobin's departure.

Retirement papers for the three had been sent to the Mayor but were pigeon-holed, although he did sign the retirement papers of Capt. Thomas F. Connolly of the Warren ave. station, known as one of the most active officers in the entire department.

Captains McGrath and Fitzpatrick signified their willingness to comply immediately with the commissioner's request. Captain Egan said he wished to confer with relatives before giving his final answer.

Reveal Harriet Parsons to Wed

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 8 (INS)—Dr. and Mrs. Harry W. Martin (Louella Parsons) today had formally announced the engagement of their daughter, Harriet, to King Kennedy, playwright.

Long identified in Hollywood as a writer of film news like her celebrated mother, the bride-to-be has more recently made a name for herself as a producer of "screen snapshots" at Columbia Studios. She is a graduate of Wellesley College and for the past few years has written of Hollywood's activities for numerous papers.

Kennedy, member of a prominent southern family, has been interested in the little theater movement in recent years and has appeared on the legitimate stage with Constance Collier in "The Torch Bearer."

The wedding was expected to take place early in the fall.

$30,000 On Head Of 'Enemy No. 1'

NEW YORK, Aug. 8 (AP)—Somewhere in hiding today is a middle-aged man with a $30,000 price on his head.

He is Louis (Lepke) Buchalter, 42, a stocky, swarthy, big-nosed gangster—newest wearer of the ever-shifting title, "Public Enemy No. 1."

J. Edgar Hoover, G-man chief, whose men have hunted Lepke for two years, will pay $5000 for him. District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey—thanks to action yesterday by the City Board of Estimate—has raised New York's ante to $25,000.

Both Hoover and Dewey have promised to keep secret the name of the person who "puts the finger" on Lepke, and the reward will be paid whether the fugitive racketeer, held responsible by Dewey for the slaying of five former associates since he jumped $10,000 bail, is captured dead or alive.

Squalus Divers Set Speed Record

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 8 (AP)—Heartened by the record speed with which they attached four pontoons to the hull of the sunken submarine Squalus, navy divers today resumed operations which they hoped would allow a second attempt to raise the vessel by Friday.

Working far into the night, with the aid of huge under water lights, divers attached four big lifting drums to the stern of the $4,000,000 submersible yesterday. Navy men expressed belief the day's work constituted a record for "pontooning" in submarine salvage cases.

MISSING BOAT, 5, HUNTED

Fears grew today for safety of five yachtsmen as Coast Guard redoubled its efforts to locate the 34-foot cabin cruiser Virginia, missing since Sunday, when it was reported disabled seven miles off Marblehead.

The Coast Guard patrol boat C. G. 158, out of Gloucester, continued its search along the coast, while a plane was held ready at the Salem base waiting for a fog to lift. Yesterday Lieut.-Comdr. Roy L. Raney searched several hours from the air.

The plight of the Virginia was reported by U. S. Atty. Edmund J. Brandon, who said the craft's engine had become disabled.

Brandon, returning to Cohasset from the Marblehead yacht races, said he had offered to tow the disabled craft to safety with his own schooner yacht Atalanta II, but the offer was declined.

35 Geysers Close Broadway to Traffic

NEW YORK, Aug. 8 (AP)—A break in a 36-inch feed line water main from the Catskills sent a flood of water shooting out through the pavement at 125th st. and Broadway this morning, causing a complete shutdown of traffic on upper Broadway.

The water gushed up through the pavement in 35 places.

Senator Wheeler Goes Under Knife

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (AP)—Senator Wheeler (D.) of Montana, underwent a tonsilectomy at Naval hospital today. The Senator was expected to remain in the hospital a few days.

1100-Foot Steel 'Snake' Leaves Death in Wake

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Aug. 8 (AP)—A six-ton, 1200-foot section of steel pipe, slithering like a great snake down a steep mountainside to impale a vacationist's automobile, left a woman dead today, her companion and a workman gravely injured.

Killed in the freak crash was Mrs. Bese Arnold Ross, 46, Long Beach clubwoman and social leader. She was crushed as the pipe, part of a gas main being laid to the mile-high resort of Crestline, broke from fastenings and reared down the rocky, brush-covered slope yesterday.

Mrs. Ross' housekeeper, Anna McDonald, 25, lost a leg by amputation after the accident.

A workman, Henry Dutton of Los Angeles, was tossed 100 feet as the 1200-foot section struck him. Physicians said his back was broken and he may die. Grant Allured, 71, of San Bernardino, motoring by the scene, stopped to look at Mrs. Ross' mangled body and slumped over the steering wheel of his car, dead of a heart attack.

Chinese Flog U. S. 'Slackers'

CLEVELAND, Aug. 8 (AP)—Tales that a high tribunal ordered bamboo pole floggings administered to members of Cleveland's Chinese colony who refused contributions to a war refugee fund were related today by detectives investigating the murder of Wong Youn, 50, whose body was found in Lake Erie.

Detective Sergeant Martin Cooney said police learned that a Chinese tribunal, after trying cases of those who refused to pay $5 to $12 monthly assessments, ordered flogging of flagrant non-donors and forced them to wear placards proclaiming them "slacker" and "pro Japanese."

Probe U.S. Mission's Fate at Japs' Hands

SHANGHAI, Aug. 8 (AP)—A courier left the Baptist mission hospital at Chengchow today in an attempt to cross Japanese lines to reach Kaifeng and learn the fate of the American mission colony there under increasing Japanese anti-American pressure.

ONE OF A KIND—Protesting "discrimination against woman" after being turned down for the official job of official executioner for Sing Sing Prison, Betty LaSalle, pretty 21-year-old Bronx girl, is shown back at work in dentist's office.
International News Photograph Service

Last word from the colony came by courier Saturday, when the missionaries were reported preparing to flee because of the anti-American campaign. Kaifeng is about 40 miles east of Chengchow, in Northern Honan Province.

In Shansi Province a like campaign was reported to have driven two American missionaries, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Scoville of Los Angeles, both of the China Inland Mission, from their post at Howohsien, 100 miles southwest of Taiyuan, the provincial capital.

Mr. and Mrs. Scoville were said by missionary sources to have taken refuge at Kiehsiu, 50 miles north of Howohsien, with other missionaries.

The Japanese-owned Peiping Chronicle reported that huge anti-American demonstrations had been held at Kaifeng, with large crowds gathering before American establishments to shout slogans and hear "fiery speeches." Similar demonstrations were said to have taken place at Shihkiachwang in Hopeh Province.

The American consular list at Hankow indicated there were 30 American missionaries at Kaifeng, including 15 nuns and four priests, but some may have left.

The Chinese press at Peiping reported an anti-British riot at Chasan on the Tsinan-Tsingtao Railway in Shantung Province.

New U. S. Envoy Reaches Moscow

MOSCOW, Aug. 8 (AP)—Laurence A. Steinhardt, new United States ambassador to Soviet Russia, assumed charge today of the embassy which has been without a chief of mission for 14 months.

Steinhardt was ambassador to Peru before his assignment to Moscow. He succeeds Joseph E. Davies, now ambassador to Belgium.

ELSIE ROBINSON, writes from the woman's viewpoint, discusses everyday affairs and problems regularly in the Boston American.

Hitler Summons Generals to Parley

LONDON, Aug. 8 (INS)—Chancellor Adolf Hitler has summoned the highest ranking military generals in Germany for an extraordinary conference at his Berchtesgaden Mountain chalet on Wednesday, the Daily Telegraph reported from Berlin today.

The published report immediately caused a tense expectancy in semi-official British circles where a Nazi move toward union with Danzig has been considerably forecast for the month of August.

The importance of the Berchtesgaden conference and the belief that it would bring into the open Hitler's plans for Danzig's immediate future in relation to the Nazi Reich, was emphasized by the arrival in Germany last night of Albert Foerster, Nazi leader of the free city.

'Bombing Raid' Tests British Air Defenses

LONDON, Aug. 8 (AP)—British anti-aircraft defenses were manned today against a make-believe "enemy" bombers' raid in a spectacular prologue to full dress rehearsal of the nation's armed forces.

The raiders—500 of them—will operate from the south and east. One group of Royal Air Force planes playing the part of the enemy will fly over France tonight to wheel back from the vicinity of Beauvais, northwest of Paris. The rest will swoop in from the North Sea.

Japs Shoot Down 74 Planes, Lose 2, They Say

HSINKING, Manchukuo, Aug. 8 (INS)—Fresh outbursts of aerial warfare along the Mongol-Manchukuoan border were reported in military advices today.

Japanese aircraft were reported to have battled 180 Soviet Russian and Outer Mongolian warplanes since the week end, bringing down a claimed 74. Japanese officials said two of their planes failed to return to bases.

Poles Fire at Nazi Plane Near Danzig

WARSAW, Aug. 8 (AP)—Contributing to German-Polish tension were reports that Polish anti-aircraft guns fired yesterday at a German military plane sighted over Polish territory northwest of Danzig.

(This report was ridiculed by the German war and propaganda ministries, but later De Angriff, newspaper of Propaganda Minister Goebbels, published a Danzig dispatch asserting a German plane was shot at four times by Polish batteries, but was not hit.)

HUNT FOES OF FRANCO

HENDAYE, France (at the Spanish Frontier), Aug. 8 (AP)—Spanish nationalists were reported today to be engaged in a widespread hunt for thousands of "men without a government" hiding in the Asturian mountains.

Advices said Generalissimo Franco's men had arrested hundreds of civilians accused of giving former Republican soldiers food and shelter.

The cities of Oviedo and Gijon were said to have yielded large numbers of persons accused of harboring the night-riding mountaineers. Nationalists have not acknowledged the scope of their campaign to wipe out Republican and other resistance since the end of the civil war March 29, but border sources pointed to the execution of 52 persons at Madrid in the past three days.

Ferdinand the Bull

Electric 'Bee' Moves Him

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 8 (AP)—William Lashley, Sr., named his 1000-pound Jersey bull Ferdinand.

But Lashley's Ferdinand, knowing nothing of the storied Ferdinand's penchant for flowers, preferred cornmeal.

Yesterday the bull nosed out the supply, wedged himself half through a fence hole and devoured a 100-pound sack.

Thoroughly bloated, he then could go neither forward nor back. Lashley worked the rest of the day, but to no avail. Ferdinand was stuck with his meal. Then Lashley remembered the invigorating effect a bee's sting had on the storied Ferdinand.

Lacking a bee, he got an electric battery; applied the terminals to Ferdinand's flank. Ferdinand leaped clear.

Baby, Heart Outside, Battles for Life

MANILA, Aug. 8 (AP)—A seven-pound baby girl, born with her heart completely outside her body but apparently normal otherwise, alternately took nourishment and peacefully slept today while puzzled doctors worried what to do.

A thin stemless cocktail glass protected the tiny exposed heart which rested on the infant's chest over a small opening. Through this opening the aorta, a large artery, connects the heart with the thoracic cavity, where the heart normally is found. The glass helps maintain body heat for the heart and guards against infection.

Physicians disagreed whether the child would live and debated feasibility of an operation to place the heart in its normal position inside the chest. They said there was only one other such case in recorded medical history.

The child was born yesterday to a 26 year old mother in a little maternity hospital in the heart of the Tondo slum district. She was baptized by a priest and named Maria Corazon (Mary Heart).

The most prominent medical and surgical men in the Philippines gathered about the operating table on which the baby lay, surrounded by hot water bottles and under constant care of a nurse.

Love, Luxury, 'Life', 4 Wives Jail Spender

CHICAGO, Aug. 8 (AP)—Romantic and financial troubles of Howard L. Shaw, 34, a plasterer by trade, who has had four wives and a yearning to live in luxury, multiplied with astonishing rapidity today.

Police Capt. Charles Pawlowski said Shaw, formerly of Lafayette, Ind., had an expensive 12-cylinder automobile, suites in two hotels and related he spent his $15,000 savings "just to keep out in front."

He was in police custody on complaints which Pawlowski said were signed by Miss Janina La Boda, 27, svelte night club singer, and her mother, Mrs. Gertrude Anderson, charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses.

Miss La Boda alleged Shaw pawned $10,000 worth of her furs and jewelry and borrowed $2300 from her mother, supposedly to help him in a legal fight for a $100,000 estate.

Detective James Lynch said Shaw told him the honeymoon with Miss La Boda in California after a whirlwind courtship last January was financed by Miss Jeannette Middleton of West Lafayette, Ind., who believed she was Shaw's fiancee.

Shaw told him, Lynch said, that he telegraphed Miss Midleton during the honeymoon that he needed money and obtained from her $7800 in cash and $3200 in stocks.

Lynch said Miss Middleton confirmed the story by telephone and started for Chicago to confront Shaw.

Two night club owners also signed complaints that Shaw passed worthless checks.

Military Rites for Andrew Robeson

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 8—A military funeral will be held tomorrow morning for Andrew Robeson, member of a prominent Boston family, widely known auctioneer, expert marksman.

He died of a heart attack while chatting with friends at the Newport Reading Club. Mr. Robeson was 58, is survived by his wife and a daughter, Mrs. Lawrence Tidrick of Flagstaff, Ariz. The services will be at Trinity Episcopal Church. During the war, he was a lieutenant commander in the naval reserve.

Soldier Shoots Mother of 4

OAKLAND, Cal., Aug. 8 (AP)—Ellis Brazil, 18-year-old army private, was held on an open charge today in the shooting of Mrs. Ruth Lipton, mother of four, "because I wanted her purse."

Mrs. Lipton, 34, dangerously wounded, gave police a description of her assailant and officers arrested Brazil.

Brazil told Inspectors Jewell and Duffy that after he and some companions had a "a number of drinks" he went home, got his 38-caliber pistol and went out "thinking I'd have some target practice."

"I was walking along" he related to officers, "when I saw this woman and right away I thought I would rob her of her purse. So I put my gun in her back and marched her to the school yard. I don't know why I shot her when she refused to go in there with me and laughed."

"Tax commissions are no good. I want a committee made up by labor, industry, all elements. But we've got to get new money."

Boy Amputates His Own Foot

LORAIN, O., Aug. 8 (INS)—Surgeons in St. Joseph's Hospital said Williams Capps, 19, Somerset, Ky., who amputated his own foot with a pocket knife after he had fallen beneath a freight train, likely would survive.

Capps' foot was crushed when he slipped from a train and fell beneath the wheels west of Vermilion yesterday. In intense pain, he realized that the foot must be amputated.

With his pocket knife he performed the operation on himself. He then made a tourniquet from his clothing. Improvising crutches from branches of a tree, he hobbled three-q rters of a mile to Vermillion, where he was placed in an ambulance and removed to Lorain.

Capps was without medical aid for more than seven hours. He is for more than seven hours.

Vanderbilt Kin Dead

Vanderbilt Kin, Cultist, Dies

NYACK, N. Y., Aug. 8 (AP)—A newspaper obituary notice inserted by a secretary of the Tantrik cult of Oom the Omnipotent announced today the death in Cannes, France, of Mrs. Barbara Rutherford Hatch Nichols, daughter of the dowager Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt.

Mrs. Nichols was a former adherent of the cult.

The Oom is Dr. Pierre J. Bernard, who operates the Clarkstown Country Club as a health resort.

The brief notice listed Mrs. Nichols' age as 41. The cause of death was not stated.

About 15 years ago the heiress, who had divorced Cyril Hatch, society artist, married Winfield J. Nichols, one of Oom's lieutenants.

BRIDGES 1940 DRIVE LAUNCHED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 (INS)—Announcement of the opening of "Bridges for President" headquarters in Washington was made today by the office of Senator Styles Bridges (R.) of New Hampshire.

Bridges' office said his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination will be managed by Rep. Charles Hawks, Jr., (R.) of Wisconsin.

At the same time, Bridges' associates said the Senator will leave in September on a speaking tour through 14 states from Oklahoma westward.

Bridges' office said he is making the tour "first in the interest of the Republican party, and second, in the interest of Senator Bridges."

In his speeches, it was learned, Bridges will ask for uninstructed delegates to the Republican National Convention.

AFL Council In Open Meeting

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 8 (AP)—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor, which always has met in private, may hold an open meeting Thursday when movie, stage and radio stars are scheduled to thresh out union problems.

William Green, A. F. of L. president, said he couldn't possibly remember what would be discussed and would not be able to report accurately the council meeting. It has been a custom to have Green report council discussions.

The entertainers recently had their ranks split when the Associated Actors and Artistes of America, parent of a dozen theatrical unions, ousted the American Federation of Actors.

F. R. Claims Victory On Court Program

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 8 (AP)—Claiming fulfillment of all the objectives of his 1937 court reorganization program, President Roosevelt arrived here today for three weeks of work and recreation far from Washington's humid heat.

A few hours before he left the capital last night for a visit at Hyde Park and a cruise off the New England and Canadian coasts, the Chief Executive unexpectedly issued a statement, saying:

"Attacks recently made on the Supreme Court itself by ultra-conservative members of the bar indicate how fully our liberal ideas have already prevailed."

The President's comment, recalling the bitter controversy over his defeated proposal to enlarge the Supreme Court if justices over 70 did not retire, was occasioned by his signing of a bill which created an administrative officer to oversee affairs of all federal courts.

That measure was one of seven parts of this original proposal, which split Democratic ranks in Congress and created nationwide argument. Six of the parts have been enacted into law, Mr. Roosevelt said, and added that the seventh "has been accomplished through the Supreme Court itself."

"The country is naturally concerned with the attainment of proper objectives rather than any one of many possible methods proposed for the accomplishment of the end," the President's statement continued.

"I called attention (two and a half years ago) to the unwarranted attitude of the Supreme Court with reference to the exercise of its Constitutional powers. Measures of social and economic reform were being impeded or defeated by narrow interpretations of the Constitution, and by the assumption on the part of the Supreme Court of legislative powers which properly belonged to Congress.

"It is true that the precise method, which I recommended, was not adopted, but the objective, as every person in the United States knows today, was achieved. The results are not even open to dispute."

Since the Senate killed his Supreme Court bill just two years ago, Mr. Roosevelt has appointed four justices to the tribunal, and Congress gradually has authorized Administrative changes in the federal court system to speed up its work.

WARN OF DISEASE IN ARGENTINE BEEF

By JOHN CURRY

Secretary of California Cattlemen's Association

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8—Cattlemen object to the importation of beef from Argentina because they insist that such importations would introduce foot and mouth disease into this country and cause tremendous losses.

Some two years ago, after a visit to Argentina, Harper Sibley, former president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, said:

"As regards the hoof and mouth disease, I found it widespread throughout the cattle herds of Argentina and present intermittently in every area where cattle are raised or fed."

TRACE TWO OUTBREAKS

There were outbreaks of foot and mouth disease in California in 1924 and 1929.

In the 1924 outbreak, it was necessary to slaughter 58,303 cattle, 28,382 sheep, 21,195 swine, 1380 goats and 22,214 deer, making a total of 131,474 animals.

According to the Magazine California, the direct cost of eradicating the 1924 outbreak was $6,151,000, and a reasonable conservative estimate of all collateral damage was $200,000,000.

The 1929 outbreak of foot and mouth disease in California was caused by Argentina meat in the following manner:

The steamship City of Los Angeles left San Pedro in October, 1928, for a South American cruise. On November 2 the boat put in at Buenos Aires, Argentina, where it remained until November 6.

LOADED ARGENTINE BEEF

The vessel docked on December 9 at Wilmington, Cal., and on December 20 the remaining meats, amounting to several thousand pounds, were transferred to the steamship Caliwali. During the transfer the meats were trimmed, the scraps being placed in cans which went into garbage. The evidence showed that the garbage which contained the scraps from the South American meat were taken to the Haas ranch.

On January 10, Frank B. Haas, owner of a hog ranch near Montebello first noticed disease symptoms.

A positive diagnosis was made January 17. All the above facts are from a United States Department of Agriculture publication by Dr. John R. Mohler, chief bureau of animal industry, and Rudolph Snyder, inspector in charge of field activities in California. There is no question about the 1929 outbreak having been caused by Argeentine meat.

U.S. SPEEDS CLEANUP IN LOUISIANA

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 8 (AP)—The government pushed an intense hunt for "big violators" today with more indictments expected shortly as O. John Rogge, Assistant United States Attorney General, announced the federal search for political corruption in Louisiana was just picking up speed.

Less than 24 hours after former Governor Richard W. Leche and Seymour Weiss, two of the late Huey P. Long's most favored political heirs, were charged with "hot oil" operations, Rogge said:

"We're concentrating on the big violators now, taking the smaller ones in stride. The federal investigations in this state are just getting under way. Beginning today the grand jury will work overtime, sitting in all-day sessions and perhaps even on Saturdays."

Rogge said the government was particularly probing reports of tampering with the jury which acquitted Abraham L. Shushan, another Long field general of income tax evasion charges in 1935.

Shushan was charged by the government four years ago with failure to report income totaling $448,218.91 from 1929 through 1933.

Immediately after his acquittal, Shushan resigned the presidency of the levee board which during his tenure had built the city's $4,000,000 airport.

Long honored Shushan, amid many protests, by naming the airport after him. The levee board yesterday voted to change the name to the "New Orleans Airport" after Shushan ignored a request to explain his connection with a $496,000 fee in refunding transactions here two years ago.

BOY'S BODY ON BEACH

PERRY, Me., Aug. 8 (AP)—A receding tide today left the body of 14-year-old Stanley Frost on the beach of East Bay here, a victim of drowning.

Sorry — But I Have to Scratch

Unless You Give Me Relief

Don't blame the weather or animal nature when your dog scratches and sheds his coat continuously. It isn't nature's way at all.

A dog's blood may be continually affected by impurities, produced by the restraint of domestic life, improper food, lack of natural exercise and impaired elimination. These conditions act to set up an intense irritation in the nerve endings of his skin. No wonder he is fretful, nervous. He is in torment.

He looks to YOU for help and you can give it—QUICKLY.

Rex Hunters Tasteless Dog Powders in sanitary capsules provide blood tonic elements and a reconstructive for dogs of all breeds, any age. Given regularly on Saturday each week they act to quickly relieve disorders due to lack of proper conditioning that cause scratching, loose coat, listlessness, poor appetite, bad breath and skin irritations. They work to make your pet happier, healthier and more contented.

Inexpensive and easy to administer, Rex Hunters Dog Powders—the prescription of a prominent English Veterinary Surgeon, are for sale at leading Drug Stores and Pet Shops. Their well-directed action should show a quick effect. You may never know how fine your dog can be until you have tried them. Ask for Rex Hunters Dog Powders—Keep Dogs Fit.

Mule Takes Wagon With It

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Usually when Congress adjourns it is scrambling like a mule galloping off a grade crossing and leaving the wagon behind.

But this Congress managed to save something from the wreck by refusing to turn the precedents of orderly legislation into a blind auction.

We hope it does us some good, but now it looks like a result in the desert without an ocean.

KEEP U. S. OUT OF WAR
—Be Neutral—

War Propaganda in U.S.

In the debate on the anti neutrality bill in Congress, Gerald P. Nye, United States Senator from North Dakota, produced on the floor of the Senate a chapter from a book by Sidney Rogerson published in England.

The book, "Propaganda In The Next War," was a publication issued as one of a series of volumes edited by Capt. Liddell Hart the noted British military writer.

Describing the book as "plainly a handbook for British propagandists" Senator Nye made a congressional document of it in order to show the existence of a basic plan of propaganda to initiate us in the next war."

Following is an excerpt from the book:

AT THE MOMENT we have a strong section of American opinion against us, but if war were to break out tomorrow between [illegible] of opinion would have to come over on one side or the other and it will be marvelous indeed if [illegible] propaganda could succeed in bringing it down on theirs.

[illegible] need, we shall require to do [illegible] benevolently neutral. To persuade her to take our part will be much more difficult, so [illegible] entirely to succeed.

[illegible] America, a threat, moreover, which will have to be brought home by propaganda to every citizen, before the Republic will again take arms in an external quarrel.

The position will naturally be considerably eased if Japan are involved and this might and probably would bring America in without further ado.

At any rate, it would be a natural and obvious object of our propagandists to achieve this, just as during the Great War they succeeded in embroiling the United States with Germany.

Fortunately with America our propaganda is on firm ground.

We can be entirely sincere as our main plank will be the old democratic one.

We must clearly enunciate our belief in the democratic form of government and our firm resolve to adhere to it.

MINOR PROPAGANDA will aim at attaching the [illegible] as the Jews, probably by the [illegible] to Palestine and of our intention [illegible] anti Semitic persecution, and of the [illegible] war terms.

[illegible] to pursue, nor to put over to the [illegible]

JOANNA SECOND OF THE Jere. G. Pal[f]reys' tennis-playing daughters to mar[ry] her nuptial "I do's" since Saturday, has a decided flare for keeping secrets . . . when she donned the tulle veil that matched her wedding gown yesterday for her marriage to Rodney Wheeler Brown, Jr., even her family was unaware of the couple's honeymoon destination.

Planned hurriedly to coincide with the bridegroom's vacation, Joanna's bridal was lovely to the last detail. Toddling alta[r]-ward before Joanna was her niece, three-year-old Pamela Hill . . . Pamela's mother is the former Mianne Palfrey Hill who became Mrs. Franklin Dexter, Jr., Saturday afternoon at her parents' Ivy street, Brookline, home . . . Mianne is now enroute to a European honeymoon.

Suannah Cazneau Ayer, of Milton, was the other bridal attendant . . . with a wreath of African daisies and delphinium crowning her gown of palest coral. Dr. Guy Scull Hayes, of Boston and Andover was Rodney's best man. Distinctly a young-set affair was the very small reception at The Country Club following the home ceremony which the Rev. Dr. Walter Pierce, of Sharon, read.

RAW POTATOES—ARE THEY HARMFUL? | IS HONEY SUBSTITUTE FOR COD-LIVER O[illegible]

By DR. WALTER H. EDDY

I love to eat raw potatoes. Is [illegible] in my diet? Mrs. A. H. N.

There is nothing to harm you in the raw potato. It is fully digestible and has the advantage of having suffered no vitamin loss through cooking. Human appetite cravings are not indicative of dietary deficiency.

HONEY NO SUBSTITUTE

Some time ago I read in a newspaper that honey was the same thing that cod-liver oil does, and that when honey is used in the diet instead of cod-liver oil is not necessary.

Mrs. S. H.

I'd like to have a [illegible] talk with that editor, because [illegible] story is certainly false. We [illegible] cod-liver oil solely because [illegible] vitamin-A and [illegible] contains neither of [illegible]

From the health [illegible] lot of nonsense is printed about the superiority of honey over white sugar. The main basis for such a statement is that the iron [illegible] lose in honey is much sweeter than white sugar, and the sweet craving is therefore sated with a smaller amount of honey.

APPROVED BRAN SAFE

Will you please tell me whether bran has any laxative in its composition? Somewhere I heard the expression "spiked bran," and the effect of a brand I use indicates that it has cathartic content.

We do not approve any bran products to which drugs have been added. The laxative [illegible] of the bran on our appe[illegible] is due solely to two prin[illegible] present in the natura[illegible] the fiber, which help [illegible] bowel bulkers to move [illegible] tents along, and [illegible] complex content, w[illegible] useful in preventing [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Good Will Leads To Business Asset

Economic Commentator

The reputation of a business institution has a bearing on the valuation of its assets.

Public ill will due to monopolistic and restrictive legislation and to a variety of ways narrows the market for products and services.

On the other hand, constructive promotion creates intangible values, which safeguard private investments.

To neglect opportunities for public, customer and employee good will is to leave an enterprise exposed to the hazards of business shifting and adverse trends.

In the case of publicly owned stock companies it is an obligation of the management, who are trustees for corporate funds and assets provided out of the savings of other people, to seek to protect the value of such funds through promoting popular understanding of the services rendered by the company.

At this time, when the Institute of Life Insurance, which has [illegible] ... companies ... [illegible] ... ing of the social security ... [illegible] ... ing the individual ... "The primary object of this institutional advertising (now in its 19th year) was originally to sell life insurance—in other words, to make life easier for the men in the field of life insurance production in Canada—but as time went on and legislation adverse to the best interests of policyholders developed in one or more of the provinces of Canada, our copy became more educational in character, so as to keep not only the policyholders, but the politicians and the public generally, informed of the true value of life insurance, both to the individual and to the community at large.

"We believe this class of copy has had an important influence on public opinion in Canada on the national value of life insurance and that, in the last analysis, it has been of even greater assistance to life insurance field men than ordinary sales advertisements."

This persistent Canadian effort to safeguard the institution of life insurance by promoting popular understanding is a fine example of an organized effort to "sell the ... is the product."

Wonderland Holds Hat Under Rainbow Gold

HOW IN THIS WORLD OF WONDERFUL nonsense could our Beacon Hill political papas refuse to take a larger slice of Dog Track earnings? The answer probably is that in politics and professional sport the time honored policy is "Never give the sucker a break," in the theory that the sucker might get delusions of grandeur.

AUSTEN LAKE

Here are our politicos, presumably, searching for more means of revenue. And here is the State's most golden goose, skimming riches from the people's pockets faster and furiouser than any commercial chump trap in the Commonwealth. Yet, with rare generosity, the daddies deny the state a fairer share of the "Take." Why? Only empty echo answers!

The little band of moralisers who predicted sin and corruption when the weasel bellied grey hound were permitted to run in our hallowed purlieus, are mortified to note that Wonderland Park is handling a nightly average of $175,000, plus a $2500 gate, plus ample "breakage" and revenue from concessions. Pious people were aghast last year when the streamlined pooches bagged $150,000 nightly, so that the new figure will afford them opportunity to get more aghast.

This means that Wonderland's slice of the kitty, together with perquisites mentioned, yields its promoters about $21,000 per evening, of which one-half may be eaten by operation and political moochery—though my estimate of the latter is naturally hazy, because political moochers are pretty voracious and equally quiet in matters of handouts.

Anyway, by multiplying 90 racing nights by the nocturnal gross, one gets an income of $1,890,000 — less the estimated half—which, when added to the earnings of the last four years, makes Wonderland a pretty luscious bit o' business for the original investment of $350,000, which was mostly put on the cuff by contractors who built the place.

▾ ▾ ▾

The People Love It!

OF THERE IS A GOLDEN GOOSE in the realm of sport it is this [illegible] spot which was reared in 1935 over a mosquito bog, a short hop, skip and jump from Revere's street of delirious delight where barrel organs [illegible] summer hordes come to seek new sensations.

[illegible] October the Wonderland owners, some of whom are ghostly persons not to be mentioned above a whisper, will whack up another [illegible] Fountain of riches it surpasses even those triple marvels [illegible] Suffolk Downs, Narragansett and Rockingham which have milked the public cow until the animals' udders are sore.

[illegible] who like to trundle [illegible] the sill for heart flops, [illegible] Mets fuzz on the tongue and abdominal icicles. Doubtless [illegible] has brightened the lives of many a jaded gent and lovely lady.

But this is a time for stock taking. Because I remember having writ[illegible] in March of 1935 [illegible] abilities than [illegible] moonlight madness [illegible] ping in satin slacks [illegible] allowing a g-n for breakfast, was not acceptable in a sane, [illegible] of the weekend I will say no.

Yet it seems, after 48 months the same sober and industrious people [illegible] on it, shrugging off their lickings and coming back for more.

It is interesting to see how the licking works. Of the $175,000 passed [illegible] fourth represents the actual liquid capital brought to the track in fresh funds, or, roughly, $44,250. Of this the track takes 11½ per cent, plus breakage in each [illegible] dollar, or about $19,000. The state takes 3¼ or $6000. And the remainder, or about $18,800 of the actual liquid capital goes back to the customers in winning payoffs. In other words, at the end of the evening [illegible] total amount of money being carried away from the track in the pockets of the investors is less than half of what came to the track earlier in the evening. It gives you a rude idea!

They Based 3 1-2 Per Cent on $50,000

Our statesmen know that Wonderland is a gold mine which clears nearly 300 per cent on their original investment annually. They know that track sponsors would have been happy to handle $50,000 nightly in the beginning and that the 15 per cent skew of the people's funds was based on that early estimate. But the handle has soared annually upwards beyond the wildest dream—more than treble the [illegible] amount. The State would be justified in taking as much as [illegible] per cent and still allow the sponsors plenty of profit. But they refused the added revenue and, with rare mercy, permitted the State's measly 3¼ per cent to stand. Why? Only the Beacon Hill powers [illegible] ectors and confidants know! To the simple citizen in the [illegible] it makes sense.

GROVE SEEKS 12TH WIN AGAINST A'S AT FENWAY

With Jimmy Foxx and Moe Berg combining to make the Red Sox pitching staff wake up and live, at least for a game, the Fenway Flock rips into the Athletics from Philadelphia with renewed enthusiasm today in the first of four games.

These are the Red Sox "cousins" coming from Philly for a single at Fenway today, a double header tomorrow and a single again on Thursday.

[illegible] staff, the statistics clearly show [illegible] the [illegible] last [illegible] the [illegible] The Sox [illegible] with the Athletics and [illegible]

Manager Joe Cronin hopes [illegible] a [illegible] convinced that his Sox [illegible] over the week-end [illegible] that they'll be much better from here on in.

BERG TO CATCH

Cronin intends to use Moe Berg much more frequently. Until Sunday he has caught but one full game. Then he went in with Jack Wilson and Wilson, guided by Berg, hurled his best game of the season.

"Berg is ready for more work," says Cronin. "Maybe he's what we need to get our pitchers pitching again."

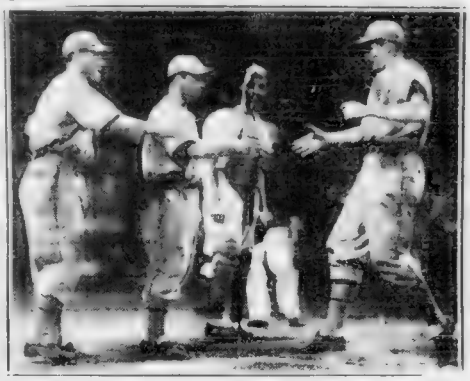
Cronin has more changes in mind.

He intends to use Joe Heving, foremost relief pitcher in baseball today, as a starter in the Wednesday double header with Woody Rich going in the other half. It may be that Berg will be behind the bat for Rich's turn, for Woody is due to hit his early season stride again and Berg will be just the catcher to show him how.

LEFTY GOES

Today it will be R. M. "Lefty" Grove, going after his 12th win of the campaign against two defeats.

With the Yankees proving "only human" again; some signs of life in their lamentable mound corps; [illegible] Lonely after a week's test, the Bronx Bombers tangling with the sizzling Senators, the stage is set for another Sox surge. They are only eight games back, despite their inability to win at Fenway where, as a rule, they've been quite successful right and left.



HASSETT CUCCINELLO PHELPS WEST

THREE-RUN LEAD. Max West congratulated at plate by Buddy Hassett and Tony Cuccinello following his three-run homer in night game against Brooklyn. Bees led, 3-0, after clout, but lost game in 10th inning, 7 to 6.

A's Lose Caster

Pitcher George Caster is lost to the Philadelphia Athletics, possibly for the rest of the season, Coach Earl Mack reported upon his arrival in Boston today. Caster is suffering from a carbuncle on the jaw. The big right hander is recuperating in Philadelphia.

27,950 See Walker Beat Bees in 10th

BROOKLYN, Aug. 7 (INS)—A single by Dixie Walker, Brooklyn outfielder recently obtained from the Detroit Tigers, last night gave the Brooklyn Dodgers a ten-inning, 7 to 6, victory over the Boston Bees. A crowd of 27,950 fans watched the contest under the arc lights.

Home runs by Max West of the Bees in the second inning with two on and by Cookie Lavagetto for the Dodgers in the seventh featured the game.

Both teams used three hurlers. Tot Pressnell and Ira Hutchinson preceded Tamulis to the mound for Brooklyn. The latter was credited with the victory. Bill Posedel started for the Bees and was relieved by Johnny Lanning in the eighth. Joe Sullivan, who took over the pitching burden after that was charged with the defeat.

Flying Finn Tells Sorrow at Ruining Idol Nurmi's Marks

LONDON, Aug. 8 (AP)—The greatest runner in the world today is Taisto Maki, keg-chested, wiry-legged Finn who grew up worshipping the fabulous Nurmi and now finds "I can beat his marks but I feel bad when I do it."

A lot went on at White City Stadium in the [illegible] Iceni yesterday. For America's team won [illegible] and made the European team look [illegible] last [illegible] Ted Reffner [illegible]

Three [illegible] records were exceeded and two [illegible] United States athletes neared [illegible] class of the world, with one exception—Maki.

He ran as Cunningham used to—coolly, wisely and strongly. No one without a motorcycle is going to lick him in the "big meet" at Helsinki next summer.

SCARED AT OWN SPEED

He handles English badly, but managed to say:

"I have run since I was a boy. I do not know anything else. Always Nurmi was my idol. When I found I could approach and beat his marks I was scared. It was like grimacing in the face of your father."

The only American who can even approach this lean, hard lad who holds records at two miles, three miles, 3000 and 10,000 meters is Don Lash, [illegible] Indiana [illegible] scope.

We asked him what makes him such a great runner?

"When I was a boy I run over roads. Tracks like this I find easy. It is like running on carpet."

He is steeped to the gills about Nurmi. Here are their comparative times:

America won all the events but two that it expected to win, the quarter and the mile. It might have won those, but Ed Mellet stumped against Mario Lanzi and Blaine Rideout got pushed around in the mile.

There's no use crying over the latter. Lots of kids get worse racing luck in dual meets at home. Rideout forget to hold his lead, and then couldn't come back. The suspicion persists he is not America's No. 1 man for the 1500 next year.

Mr. Boston

By JACK CONWAY

MAX (LEFTY) WEISMAN, trainer of the Cleveland Indians, probably didn't realize it at the time, but he tossed a real bombshell when he declared that beer drinking ball players stand up best under the strain of a severe pennant fight. Lefty also stated that it didn't injure the health of a veteran player to have an occasional cocktail before dinner.

Reginald F. Gondey of No. 32 Stedman street, Brookline, takes a full hearted swing at the Weisman beer theories.

"It is about time that the American youth of today has been told the truth regarding the effects on his constitution of over indulgence of alcoholic beverages if he expects to be a successful athlete," argues Mr. Gondey.

"The difference between today's athletes and the oldtimers is that the athlete of this generation is more scientifically trained and has more vigorous training rules to live up to than was the case years ago.

"The present day athlete is living in a much faster age than the oldtimer. He hasn't got the real stuff the oldtimer had. His endurance has been cut down and he is unable to stand the gaff.

"If an athlete loses eight pounds while pitching a ball game and is in good condition, nature gives him back the eight pounds he has lost. He will regain the eight pounds by wholesome food, rest and sleep."

Lefty had said that two bottles of beer taken after a ball game was one of the best ways to regain lost weight.

The writer then went on to say that Lefty Grove and Walter Johnson, two of baseball's greatest pitchers, never touched beer.

One fan wrote that he thought Joe Cronin should try a beer for his pitchers in view of the fact they have not responded under [illegible] treatment.

"I believe beer drinking is all right for athletes if you can get them to stop after they have had two bottles of beer," writes another fan. "I find that some athletes keep drinking beer until they put on so much weight they cannot compete successfully."

To have a beer or not to have a beer will always be a question that will be under debate, but I believe in any voting contest of trainers the "yeses" will be [illegible].

Rural Rube to Be Given Racing Test

RURAL RUBE, who has proved the top greyhound racing at Wonderland Park, will receive his most severe test in a series of races with Cherokee Stroller that will get under way tomorrow night.

George E. Huestis, who is handling the publicity for the race, gives the following facts concerning it.

"There will be a $2000 added purse for the series of races, in which the fastest dogs at Wonderland Park will compete.

"It will be known as the National Championship Series, and Bud Carroll's Rural Rube, unquestionably the 1939 outstanding greyhound, and R. W. H. Ford's Cherokee [illegible] will be the [illegible] in the Florida campaign last winter, will be in the three big events. It will be Cherokee Stroller's debut in the East, and he comes here as the result of a return by his owner that he is a better greyhound than Rural Rube. Bill Finerian, racing secretary, will place six other greyhounds in each of the three races.

"The high point scorers in the three races will share in the purse, to be divided as follows: 50 per cent for first, 20 per cent for second, 15 per cent for third, 10 per cent for fourth and 5 per cent for fifth. It will be the first time in the history of the sport in America that such a [illegible] has been run. The points will be determined [illegible] second, 4 points; third, 3 points; fourth, 2 points, and fifth, 1 point.

"Under the conditions, Rural Rube and Cherokee Stroller must be entered in each of the three races. Any other kennel owner or combination of owners may enter three greyhounds, only one, however, in each race, and this will be considered as a single entry.

"The first race will be over the 5/16 of a mile course on Wednesday, August 9, the second over the Futurity on Friday August 11, and the third over the Revere Course of 655 yards on Monday, August 14.

"Since greyhounds from all tracks in America have been asked [illegible] Wonderland series will bring out the [illegible] one sense it is a match race between Rural Rube and Cherokee [illegible]

Red Sox Catchers

It will be necessary for the Red Sox to get a top catcher before we can think of buying World Series tickets. Desautels and Peacock are better than catchers but neither compares with Bill Dickey of the Yanks or the Mickey Cochrane of a few years ago.

The Yanks are leading the league because they have a great catcher. The wolves are beginning to snap at the heels of Auker who did all right for Detroit when he had Cochrane catching him. Grove has been winning for the Sox, but he could do so even if the bat boy were catching.

RAITHEL AND SAUNDERS LAND 45-POUND STRIPER

By DARK MONTREAL

Forty-five pounds of striped bass, in one fish, is a lot of battle. Fred Raithel, Westerly, R. I. auto dealer, and Albert L. Saunders, Boston attorney and associate justice of western Norfolk district court, will testify to that.

The bull bass hit an eel-skin cast by Raithel while Judge Saunders handled their boat outside the surf at Westerly, R. I. It took smart angling and smart handling of the boat to bring the fish to gaff. Judge Saunders' home is in Medway.

* * *

One word, one name, in a letter received yesterday, rolled time away. Memory in a nostalgic vein cut back 30 years. Here's the letter; I'll bet you can't pick out the word:

"Dear Dark Montreal:

News for your creel. The Holliston Sportsmans' Association held a clambake in Stoddard Park on beautiful Lake Winthrop. Club members prepared the bake and our thanks go to past President J. Phipps for the delicious clams.

One member, Dr. Ufford, drove up from the Cape to partake of our bake.

CLYDE T. CHARPENTIER,
President.

P. S. Any stripers outside of eel river?

* * *

Well, clams sometimes give me nostalgia or somepin but that isn't the word. The word is Ufford—Dr. Ufford. Because a Dr. Ufford who was a great sportsman with rod and gun was the hero of my boyhood on Cape Cod so many years ago. My Doctor Ufford was a dentist and it seems to me he lived in Auburndale, and I have a sort of vague recollection that his mother or father or some close relative wrote that old favorite hymn, "Throw Out the Lifeline," but I can't recall what he looked like because it has been so long.

But I remember the days we had together during two short summers and autumns on Buzzards Bay, fishing in the hot summer sun and lying in a blind on Long Point shooting shore birds, yellowlegs and ring-neck plover.

And I remember, and shall never forget, the ideals of good sportsmanship he taught me while we sat in a boat or sprawled in a blind. And the love of the outdoors and the beauty of nature he impressed upon me without ever mentioning them by name.

And I remember one excursion up the Weweantik river—a good wild country then when he shot and wounded a crow that fell in the water about 20 yards from shore. The bird set up a cawing that brought half a hundred of its fellows flapping and cawing about for 10 or 15 minutes. Then they picked it up in bills and claws and skittered with it ashore. Otto London was with us that trip and I don't know where he is now either, but I remember how amazed we were at this spectacle which I have never since seen duplicated.

And looking back, now, I know that I must have been a pretty pestiferous kid, and perhaps an earache for the man who took such an interest in my education in sports afield.

So, President Charpentier, I don't know whether your Doctor Ufford is my Doctor Ufford but mine was the kind of a man who would drive up from the Cape to Holliston to spend a day with a lot of good fellows, and if they should happen to be one and the same Dr. Ufford, say a "hello" for me and a word of thanks for some of my most pleasant memories.

Of stripers off Eel river, I have heard nothing since the 11 fish I reported last week but I pass there every day and not many boats are fishing, which is a sign of few fish.

* * *

There's another letter in the creel:

Dear Dark Montreal:

I have a suspicion that you write other columns in your paper under the name of Mr. Jack Conway. Am I correct in my supposition?

If may interest you to know that I had the extreme good fortune to hook into and net a beauty of a large mouth bass last Sunday, July 30. This "lunker" weighed five and one-quarter pounds. For a locally caught fish I consider this pretty good. Don't you think so?

This pond is in Andover. In all, I have caught nine varieties of water denizens in it. Why travel to earth's end to fish when you can do better at home?

Incidentally, I have three habitanis who witnessed my catch and can verify my story. Do you think this fish good enough to enter in the contest for prizes sponsored by Hunting and Fishing Magazine?

Haig Edward Ohanesian,
27 Park st., Medford.

To Mr. Ohanesian: You are wrong in your supposition and owe Mr. Conway an apology. Jack has sons who are anglers but he's a golfer. That's a good idea and I agree with you that we often travel too far from home for our fishing. Often, I think, a desire for a change of scenery is more important than the hope of better fishing. I'd certainly enter your catch in Hunting and Fishing's contest though it's not an extraordinary bass for a large mouth.

2 Saint Nines Tie for Second

St. Alphonsus A. A. pulled back into a second place tie with St. Augustines in the Boston Park League through a win over Dick Casey Club last night at Neponset and tonight with a repeat engagement with the West leaders at Fens Stadium billed, the Saints will pitch Robishaw against Sammy White or Cerrone for the Caseys.

St. Augustines are working tonight over at East Boston where they play the Star of the Sea nine.

Bill Anderson chucked the Navy Yard club into third place in the West last night at Fallon Field where the Navy sunk Holy Name, ousting the Namers from the tail of the Murphy Club. Tonight, Holy Name will be the guests of the Brighton Irish at Rogers Park.

Roslindale Town Club gets back to work tonight at Healy Field where St. Catherines of Charlestown provide the opposition.

Boston Typos Play Indians

BALTIMORE, Aug. 8 (AP)—Washington's typo nine, defending champions of the Union Printers International Baseball League, was pitted against Detroit today in the second round of the 29th annual tournament.

The Washingtonians, winners of the past two tournaments, smothered Baltimore yesterday, 18 to 6, while Detroit routed Cincinnati, 19 to 8.

Other games scheduled today were: St. Louis vs. Baltimore, Pittsburgh vs. New York, Boston vs. Indianapolis, and Chicago vs. Twin Cities (Minneapolis and St. Paul). Cincinnati drew a bye.

TEN TROTTERS NAMED FOR HAMBLETONIAN

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 8 (AP)—Headed by the odds-on favorite, unbeaten Peter Astra, ten of the country's finest three-year-old trotters were named today for the renewal of the $40,500 Hambletonian over Good Time Park's mile track tomorrow.

The only surprise was Walter Cox's decision to start Ned Abbey, owned by A. W. Williams of Corning, N. Y.

Until early this morning the veteran trainer had decided not to send the son of Guy Abbey to the post, since he had failed to trot in his workouts.

Peter Astra, owned by a country doctor, L. M. Gullinger of Andover, O., was none too well favored in the draw for the post positions for the first heat at 3 p. m., eastern daylight time.

The entries according to post positions:

C. W. Phelps' Gauntlet, Greenwich, Ct.

J. S. McIntyre's Sir Walter of Cleveland.

Joseph Burke's Leemite, Plainfield, N. J.

Jacob G. Lang's Vultina, Buffalo, N. Y.

Ned Abbey.

Lawrence B. Sheppard's Cherry Hanover, Hanover, Pa.

Peter Astra.

E. Roland Harriman's Spud Hanover, Goshen.

Tip Abbott, owned by Bill Strang, New York; J. J. Mooney, Freemont, O., and Ben White, Lexington, Ky.

Harriman's Bagpiper.

Swifty SAYS:

"It will be the biggest night of my life tomorrow at Wonderland. Cherokee Stroller, Rural Rube and Six Stars will have their muzzles close on my trail in the first of the National Championship races over the 5/16 course."

Yearling Sales At Saratoga Big Gamble

By Associated Press

If there's anyone in the house with a pocket full of money and the ambition to be a racing stable owner, trot along up to Saratoga the next two weeks and take a crack at the annual million-dollar gamble in horse flesh.

The Saratoga yearling sales where you can exchange a halfful for an animal, with little more to go on than the knowledge it has four legs, gets under way at the up-state spa today.

There's probably no "lottery" like it anywhere. The catalogues show only whether it's a boy or girl horse and that it comes from blue-blood stock. From there on you just hope it'll come up seven.

EL CHICO A BARGAIN

Sometimes it works. Take William Ziegler, Jr., for instance. Two years ago they knocked down a little red-headed colt to him for $2700. That was El Chico, which won $61,100 last year.

In the same sales, Mrs. Ethel V. Mars wound up with a whole carload of horses and a considerably reduced check-book. To say the least, some of those yearlings failed by considerable to pay their freight.

There have been some "telephone number" prices in the past. Back in 1928 it took $75,000 to bid in New Broom, and the year before that $70,000 for Hustle On. Neither of them ever paid off the initial cost, to say nothing of the upkeep. Yet Calumet Sir went for $24,000 in 1930 and won $115,965.

ONE "BIG RED" FILLY

Man O War's youngsters always attract attention. In the past they've gone for as high as $65,000. This year Big Red is sending only one, a bay filly out of Forest Nymph, shipped here by Samuel Riddle and J. O'Connor. It is just one of a consignment of some 600 head bred in old Kentucky's blue grass, largest collection ever from the land of the mint julep.

Last year, 985 head were sold altogether, for a total of $1,940,535. Bull Dog's offspring brought the highest prices.

Breakage Bill Faces Battle

would defeat the very purpose of the legislation. Even with the end of the term so close, he said there was time for a vote and enactment.

DOLLAR BASIS OF BREAK

The rules committee declared it an emergency and sent it to the committee on legal affairs for concurrence.

The bill would change the wording of the statute defining breakage so that tracks could break to the dime on each $1 bet instead of, as the law reads, to the dime on each minimum bet of $2.

Thus, if a horse or dog won at odds of $1.36 to $1, the law entitles the successful $2 bettor to $2.72, of which he should collect $2.70, with the track retaining two cents in breakage. Instead, under the present system, tracks have taken six cents breakage to $1.30 on each $1 and returned the bettor $2.60 for $2.

BIG SUMS TO TRACKS

The Supreme Court in a decision on Friday, July 28, estimated that the bill, had given to the tracks and the Commonwealth $1,384,000 more than they were entitled to since pari-mutuel betting began.

Chairman Connors defended the action of the commission in preparing and sponsoring the bill. He said the commission did not understand the Supreme Court decision and referred it for an interpretation to Atty.-Gen. Paul A. Dever 10 days ago.

AWAIT LEGAL OPINION

"Up to the present they have received no explanation," he said. "Believing our law, as it stands on the books, is contrary to pari-mutuel rules of betting, the amendment was drawn which was filed by Rep. Sirois.

"If the law is left as it is the state will lose from 50 to 60 per cent of what it now gets from breakage," Connors declared. "Every state which legalizes pari-mutuel betting breaks to the dollar."

Zengaras Wins Nod From Mack

NEW YORK, Aug. 8 (AP)—Georgie Zengaras, 137½, New York, outpointed hard-hitting Johnny Mack of New Britain, Conn., in a return eight round engagement.

Mack, who weighed three-quarters of a pound more than his opponent, started well, carrying the fight for the first three rounds, but Zengaras later gave up his body attack and started to mix it freely, winning the last four rounds. There were no knockdowns.

Indians Buy Russ Peters

CLEVELAND, Aug. 8 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians have purchased Shortstop Russ Peters from the Southern Association's Atlanta Crackers, Vice President C. C. Slapnicka announced.

He said an undisclosed amount of cash was being paid and that Atlanta also would receive a pitcher next year. Peters will report at the end of the Southern Association season.

"He's a wonderful shortstop," Slapnicka said, "and will give us strength, no matter how well our present combination goes."

The pitcher to be sent to the southern club has not been selected, he said.

Purchase of Peters will not upset present plans to install Lou Boudreau and Ray Mack, withdrawn last week from Buffalo, as the Indians' keystone combination, Slapnicka said, observing:

"While we think Boudreau is going to be a great ball player, we want to protect ourselves against the possibility he isn't quite ready."

Japanese Beetles Attack Yankees

Scooparade; The Dixie grapevine says Seymour Weiss, the Louisiana politician, is trying to peddle the New Orleans Pelicans to Bill Terry.

Correction. Mike Welch, the halfback ing pride of St. James (Minn.) who was ticketed for Alabama here, has decided to enlist at Minnesota instead. (Proving all the stars do not fall on Alabama).

Mike Jacobs is going to give Boston a look at Patrick Edward Comiskey . . . Washington sent Minneapolis a first sacker in a pinch and the Millers will return the favor by giving Washington first call on one of their slab stars.

UNFAIR COMPETITION — The Yankee Stadium is infested with Japanese beetles and Joe McCarthy says it's asking too much to expect the Yanks to beat them and the Injuns, too.

HARD ON HITTER

SHAME ON HIM. Out in Bloomington (Ill.) the other night a guy named Benzenberg ruined a no-hit game for a guy named Jim Hayes.

Taking the culprit to task, the Bloomington Pantagraph said:

"He didn't do it standing up there swinging like a man. No, he did it with a bunt; a deceitful back-alley ruse that gave Mr. Benzenberg a hit but did him no honor.

"It was the flea-bittenest, sway-backed-est, moth-eatened hit that ever marred a pitcher's record."

Gansett Ready For Summer Racing Meet

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Aug. 8—Preparations for the opening of Narragansett Park's Summer Meeting one week from today were speeded up with the opening of the office of the Rhode Island Division of Horse Racing in the Administration Building.

Clarence "Chief" Boston, secretary for the racing administrator, Louis C. Gerry, reported at the trac kearly this morning and posted notices placing the office hours durirng which trainers, and jockeys' licenses will be issued, from 9 a. m to 1 p. m. Chief Boston is on the job now till the end of the meeting, Sept. 16.

With the arrival of Starter Buddy Wingfield, Gansett's official family will be complete with the exception of Stewards Tom Thorp, Frank Bryan and Sam Nuckols. This trio will report Saturday. Bob Shelley and his assistants, Jimmy Ross and Duke Dahlstrom, are already at work.

Mort Mahoney, Boss of the Mutuels, has completed preliminary work and will take active charge of the mutuel plant Friday. Earl Waldron, Mahoney's assistant, will report at the close of the Rockingham meeting.

Harry I. Day is back and the "Eye in the Sky" camera is unwrapped and ready. Jimmy Ferris, custodian of the jockey room, is ready for the batch of riders due over the week-end.

Assistant Starter Jack Hennessey, who came over the road with the rest of Buddy Wingfield's ground crew, conducted the first schooling session of the meet this morning. Workmen are fast completing the new awnings and already the big plant has taken on its customary mid-summer gala appearance.

Over 400 horses are already on the grounds and arrivals by train and van threaten to tax the capacity of the stables long before Saturday night.

Travel facilities to Gansett are better than ever this year. Trains will leave the South Station as usual, running direct to the track. Bus service from nearby points will be expanded. There will be eight races daily and post time during the summer meeting will be 2:15. The daily double windows will close at 2 o'clock.

More News 'Tips' Win Prizes

A speeding car hurtled down an embankment and overturned. A police officer leaped from a purring cruiser car and leaped to the rescue of the trapped occupants. Suddenly shots rang out from the fugitive car. The officer and a bystander crumpled to the ground, both wounded.

This was NEWS. And a Cambridge man, knowing its value, rushed to a telephone, called Liberty 4000, and was FIRST with a spot-news tip on the shooting. He wins the $5 award in the Boston Daily Record-Boston Evening American and Boston Sunday Advertiser weekly tipster contest.

And to a Watertown woman who was FIRST to call with the correct identification of the wounded officer, telephoning the name in time for edition, goes award of $1 for her timeliness.

An exclusive story on the pardons and paroles legislation commission, forecasting the important work of the commission in its relentless probe of state-wide pardon rackets, came from a man in close touch with State House activities, and who knew the value of his information. He, too, receives $5 for his tip.

A gay holiday outing of disabled war veterans delegates to the convention, and members of their families, and a tragic denouement when three buses crashed in Arlington, injuring many. First with the news of this accident was an Arlington man, who called Liberty 4000 and enabled the papers to get fast action in story and pictures. His tip wins $3.

BOAT CAPSIZES

Right on the job when a boat load of sailing enthusiasts capsized and was rescued off Nahant, a Nahant resident made a picture of the rescue. He wins $2 for his quick work.

Two men were rescued from a flaming power boat in Lynn harbor, and an observer telephoned Liberty 4000 to win $1.

An Allston fire in a physicians' building led to spectacular rescues of patients on stretchers. An Allston onlooker wins $1 for his tip.

In Salem, a general alarm fire in the Salem Gas Company coal pocket threatened the entire district. A Salem man gets $1 for the first tip.

FETE FOR BOY

Up in Maine, a Millinocket man gave first account of the big town celebration for 12-year-old Doris Fendler, and the tipster wins $1.

Another dollar goes to a Roxbury man for telephoning first word of the rescue of a drowning man by a 10-year-old girl.

Still another dollar goes to the informant who telephoned Liberty 4000 to report the rescue of two little boys lost in a manhole and swept into the sewer near Lake Park, Worcester.

An alert Dorchester girl heard cries for help when a sailboat overturned near the Dorchester Yacht Club, and gave the first "tip" of the accident, winning $1.

A picture vividly depicting a serious auto accident, with a car overturned over an embankment, wins $1 for a Medford man. And a dollar also goes to a man who called Liberty 4000 to report the death of a well-known public official.

Hot Air—That's what bothers Rep. John B. Wenzler of South Boston and so he appeared at the State House today in the swimming attire he sports in this picture. Solon Wenzler claims it's a terrible thing to keep the lawmakers in session during these August days. However, he believes he has solved the problem.

Old Home, Goodby—All around Victor Iula are ruins . . . even his doorstep shows the work of wreckers who are tearing down vast stretches of Charlestown for the new federal housing project. With his dog, he revisits old scenes . . . a not uninterested spectator in the work that is going on all around him.
